Living in a small community is so amazing. This is why we returned to Warwick for my surgery. The support group has been great: family, extended family and friends.

I want to thank everyone for their cards, thoughts and prayers. I feel like I have been surrounded with positive energy. I want to thank Liz and family for all they had to contend with before and during the surgery and the recovery period. Thanks to modern medicine and a good surgeon, I am on the road to recovery. The cancer has been removed, the infection is being treated and I am being weaned, ever so slowly, off the oxygen.

Special thanks go out to Gerry Whitney for helping Liz plant the garden and to Gary Lochhead for mowing the lawn. If I have left anyone out, forgive me. Everyone has been great.

Thanks to all, Rod Whipple

JP Stevens used to be Lily's On the Pond, for those of you who remember. I recently went to for their Sunday Brunch. I can honestly say I liked the restaurant better when it was Lily's On the Pond.

They seated us in the dining room which I felt was too cold. The A/C was on and ceiling fans which caused almost a draft. Eventually, they shut it down and it felt better by the time we left. Our server was great and very attentive.

My niece and I opted for the Steak and Eggs which I thought the steak was excellent, but instead of an 8 oz. steak which they had on the menu, it was actually chunks of steak tips. They were cooked to perfection (medium) and very tender and tasty. The home fries were OK. They had peppers and onions mixed it but not a strong flavor of peppers which I despise. My eggs were cooked over easy but I asked for pumpnickel toast and that was exceptionally dry.

The server kept our coffee cups filled and we were not rushed at all. We were able to sit and chat without feeling they wanted us to leave.

I'd try it again but maybe for lunch or dinner. It's a nice ride to Rindge over Rt. 119 and only takes about 40 minutes. Give it a try next time you are out that way. Bon Appetite.

ANIMAL CONTROL

HEIMLICH MANEUVER FOR A CHOKING PET: The following comes from PetPlace.com, a website with veterinarian approved articles.

Before administering any first aid, make absolutely certain your pet is actually choking. Many people confuse difficulty breathing with choking. If you witness your pet ingesting an item and then immediately begin pawing at the face, the throat, acting frantic, trying to cough and having difficulty breathing, only then should the Heimlich maneuver be considered. If your pet is not really choking, the Heimlich can cause serious injury. After determining that your pet is choking, remove any item that may be constricting the neck. Examine inside the mouth and remove any foreign object you see. Do not blindly place your hand down your pet's throat and pull any object you feel. Dogs have small bones that support the base of their tongues. Owners probing the throat for a foreign object have mistaken these for chicken bones. Do not attempt to remove an object unless you can see and identify it.

If your pet is small and you cannot easily remove the object, lift and suspend him with the head pointed down. For larger animals, lift the rear legs so the head is tilted down. This can help dislodge an item stuck in the throat.

Another method is to administer a sharp blow with the palm of your hand between the shoulder blades. This can sometimes dislodge an object. If this does not work, a modified Heimlich maneuver can be attempted: Grasp the animal around the waist so that the rear is nearest to you, similar to a bear hug; Place a fist just behind the ribs; Compress the abdomen several times (usually 3-5 times) with quick pushes; Check the mouth to see if the foreign object has been removed. This maneuver can be repeated one to two times but if not successful on the first attempt, make arrangements to immediately take your pet to the nearest veterinary hospital.

Even if you are successful in removing a foreign object, veterinary examination is recommended. Internal injury could have occurred that you may not realize. —Rosa Fratangelo

THE GREEN

Our world today is polluted with garbage and getting globally hotter. Those two facts suggest that it is a moral imperative for each of us to do what we can to make less garbage and use less fossil fuel.

Toward that end, Cheri and I are installing a solar array on our property. We've had six or seven companies send people up to look at the house. It's been an interesting process. I'll go into some of the things we've learned in future posts here in the Green Corner.

One conclusion is plain. The economic benefits of installing solar panels are making it a smart choice. State and local incentives and tax benefits are generous. The savings on utility bills is significant. It increases the value of your property, and that increase in value is not taxed.

Your actions have power. You can personally fight climate change and pollution. Every effort to address the problems, seemingly insignificant as it may be, makes a difference. So do it. Do something. Make a difference. - Doc Pruyne

JULY 2015

(more of) THAT VISION THING

Dear Friends,

After a technical SNAFU, Denyse Dar gave an interesting talk that had some eye opening, graphic depictions of Warwick demographics and trends. The data indicates some hard times ahead if we don't make proactive choices about how we are to live as an aging community.

The heart of her presentation was grounded in a vision of cooperative, cluster housing that addressed a number of the issues facing us as a community; an aging population, lack of affordable housing options and lack of economically sustainable jobs being the backbone of the problems.

Her vision of energy efficient cluster housing providing affordable housing options for elders and low-income families, with the integration of healthy, sustainable food production and elder care jobs as well as construction jobs and educational opportunities, addressed many of the issues. It was not presented as THE solution but that it could be part of a long-term, sustainable vision.

The obstacles facing us are the same as those facing most of western MA; a growing tax burden on a shrinking tax base, young families leaving the area for more economic opportunities in other communities and an aging population whose options of housing and care are dwindling to isolation or government subsidized nursing homes away from familiar surroundings.

Is this an acceptable vision for our town, or are there other options available to us? Energy costs are rising, putting a strain on budgets, for the town as well as individual households. Energy conservation is the cheapest and most effective means of reducing these cost increases, and it provides jobs for local workers. Taking advantage of subsidized energy-efficiency upgrades and new construction creates local jobs, cuts future costs, makes homes and workplaces more comfortable and reduces the need for more pipelines and powerplants.

Warwick already has a growing agricultural base that we can all support for better personal health and a more sustainable environmental and economic future for the region. We have forests and woodlots that, when managed for forest health and sustainability, provide jobs, help reduce the carbon load on the atmosphere and clean the air we breathe. They also provide healthy recreational opportunities that attract people from around the area. How can we maximize our economic growth around these resources? Could we work with the state to make greater use of Mt Grace's existing infrastructure or expand the recreational uses?

Can these assets be integrated with the needs of the elders among us? It seems we see our elders as a problem that is best addressed by putting them somewhere safe and out of harms way. Could they be an asset we have over looked? In the not-too-distant-past, three and four generations coexisted in the same home. That has its own problems and probably won't come back in favor for many, but integrating seniors and children in close residence might be good for all concerned; elders can add to the care of children, children can brighten the lives of the elders and the middle generation can benefit from the availability of child care and nurture.

I have been reading "Being Mortal" by Atul Gawande, a surgeon at Brigham and Women's hospital, a writer for The New Yorker and a professor at Harvard Medical School. His book is about the options available to elders and would be an interesting focus of a discussion group that would tie right in with the issues we face. Any interest?

In faith, Dan

Selectboard Minutes—April 27, 2015

Members present: Dawn Magi, Nick Arguimbau

Member Absent: Patricia Lemon Others present: Town Coordinator David Young, Town Secretary Rosa Fratangelo, Finance Committee members Rick Abbott and Bill Foote, Police Chief David Shoemaker, Bill Lyman, Fire Chief Ron Gates, PVRs Superintendent Dayle Doiron, PVRs Assistant Superintendent Gail Healy, School Committee member Martha Morse, Highway Superintendent Larry Delaney, Broadband Committee Chair Tom Wyatt, WiredWest delegate John Bradford, Steve Ruggiero, Maria Ruggiero, Vern Bass, Todd Dexter, Susan Wright, Jon Calcari, David Rainville (Greenfield Recorder), Paula Lundgren Robinson (Athol Daily News)

I. Call to Order Chair Magi called the meeting to order at 5:00 pm in Town Hall.

Bill Lyman announced that he was recording the meeting.

This meeting was posted as a Joint meeting of the Selectboard and Finance Committee, but there was no quorum achieved for the Fin. Comm.

II. Public Comment Bill Lyman asked if the petition article for the Pledge of Allegiance could be placed at the beginning of the Annual Town Meeting (ATM); Magi said the warrant would be kept as is. Lyman said that he would like retired Air Force Lieutenant Colonel Rick Abbott to lead the Pledge of Allegiance at the meeting.

III. Minutes

Arguimbau MOVED to accept the minutes of April 13, 2015 and April 21, 2015 as printed. Magi SECONDED. Motion CARRIED 2-0-0.

IV. Presentations and Discussions

1. Review of Omnibus Budget—Young pointed out that since the meeting a week ago he increased the Police Department wage line by 1.5%, and noted that he was unable to get an ambulance donation update and therefore went with the previous year's figure. He said that he also increased the Fire Department wage by 1.5%, corrected the Fire Department budget recommended to equal the requested amount, and corrected the Police Department wage line so both recommended and requested columns contain a 1.5% increase.

The Board discussed the recommended PVRs assessment it voted at the previous meeting which was a $14,712.00 cut from the requested budget assessment. Young said that if voted by two towns it would necessitate cuts to the budget of $157,000.00 resulting in layoffs for all teachers lacking "professional status", which means fewer than three years employment with our District. He said that even if this assessment reduction only cuts a "few" positions this will cause bumping and less than optimum teacher assignment. He argued that we should consider the gains made under the new contract and the minimal budget increase by the school committee and teachers union and recommended that the Selectboard and Finance Committee support the requested assessment.

PVRSD Superintendent Dayle Doiron addressed the Selectboard. She reiterated much of what Young had previously stated and asked the Board to reconsider its position relative to the assessment request. Doiron said that the 2.5% increase was the lowest common denominator and pointed out that the request before the Board was slightly under 2.5%. She explained that the State does not allow a town to pay less for its minimum contribution than it did the year before. Doiron noted that there was not a unanimous position shared by the Bernardston Selectmen and Finance Committee, and that she was attending their meeting after speaking here.

Arguimbau said that clearly they had done the best they could this year and asked what could be done to keep the numbers from increasing every year. Doiron said that there had been modest growth the past few years following several years of level funding. She stated that the $41,000.00 decrease in our Franklin County Tech School assessment will have to be paid to PVRSD because the minimum contribution cannot be less than the prior year's amount.

Abbott deferred to others who could speak to the matter, as his wife is a teacher and he cannot speak to school issues. Fellow Finance Committee member Bill Foote said that he was sympathetic to the points made about the potential impact of cost cutting, but felt that more discussion was needed before making a final decision on a recommended figure. Young said that the Selectboard had to vote now so that the warrant could be legally posted, and pointed out that an amendment can come from town Meeting floor.

Arguimbau MOVED to recommend the requested PVRSD budget as is and accept the assessment with the proviso that we expect the District to make its best efforts next year. Magi SECONDED. Motion CARRIED 2-0-0.

Steve Ruggiero inquired as to why the contributory insurance number was cut in half. Young said that someone had been injured on the job and that a settlement had been reached, and that someone had come off the insurance.

Arguimbau MOVED to accept the omnibus budget. Magi SECONDED. Motion CARRIED 2-0-0.

2. Review of Town Meeting Warrant—Young reported that the ATM warrant has one addition recommended by Town Counsel. It reads: "Article 4: Shall the Town vote to allow town boards and commissions to appoint one of its members to a position under their supervision as allowed by MGL Chapter 268A, section 21A, or take any other action relative thereto." Young explained that we need this for the Assessors and the recommended article comes from a recent question to Town Counsel regarding having a Board of Health member act as their clerk. A Chapter 268 S 20D exemption is necessary for holding two positions in the town, but is not sufficient for a member to work for their board without this ATM permission.

Arguimbau MOVED to accept the Annual Town Meeting warrant. Magi SECONDED. Motion CARRIED 2-0-0.

The board signed seven copies of the ATM warrant, which will be signed and posted by Constable A. George Day, Jr. by this evening at 7 p.m.

3. Coordinator Report—Young said that the Town has received and deposited the $22,000.00 Soltas settlement. He reported that he has contracted with HCOG Power for electric supply for one year at 10.75 cents. Young said that he has corresponded with Orange Court probation department regarding payment of damages for dumping and has suggested community service at the Transfer Station for the defendant if he is unable to pay. Young said that he had invited Representative Susannah Lee to our ATM. Lastly, he reported on prohibited public shade tree / scenic road cutting near Moore's Pond beach which the Planning Board and Tree Warden are investigating. Young suggested possibly making some parking where the trees had stood. Young said that because Town Counsel Jeremia Pollard has four other Annual Town Meetings on May 4th he will not be in attendance at ours, and told the Board members if they have any questions for Town Counsel they should be brought to him prior to the ATM.

V. Adjournment

At 5:37 p.m., Arguimbau MOVED to adjourn. Magi SECONDED. Motion CARRIED 2-0-0.
